Before Leaving Home - Preparing for the Training Course

Argonne Required Forms

Security Clearance Information Request - The Security Clearance Information Request that is included with the selection letter from Argonne National Laboratory should be completed and returned by fax (1-630-252-3634) as soon as possible. The information on this form is required for a security clearance which must be approved before authorizing access to the Laboratory property. The section regarding U.S. visa details can be left blank at the time of submission and faxed to the above number once the visa is received.

Travel Information Request - The completed Travel Information Request should be returned by email to IAEA-ANLCourse@anl.gov upon the completion of flight reservation and no later than 10 days before the start of the training course.

Applying for a U.S. Visa

U.S. Visa - Participants of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) Training Course Program should apply for a visa. The usual visa types for this training purpose are the A-1, B-1 and G-4; however, the U.S. Embassy staff can assist with choosing the proper visa application. It is important to apply for the visa as soon as possible due to lengthy processing times. When applying, all support letters and documents from IAEA and Argonne should be included with the application. A letter to the U.S. Embassy in support of participation is provided to the participant by Argonne and should also be included with the application. This letter states the funding source responsible for covering travel, lodging and incidental expenses. Participants will receive no funds from the United States.

Status of visa applications should be monitored regularly. If difficulties are encountered when obtaining the visa, or if it is not received 14 days in advance of the departure date, an email should be sent to the Argonne training course office at IAEA-ANLCourse@anl.gov as soon as possible. The email should include the address of the U.S. Consulate/Embassy where the application is being processed, including the reason stated for the delay or denial.

Once the approved visa is received, it should be checked carefully for any errors in entries and corrected in the office where the visa was processed. Corrections cannot be made from within the United States.

Visa Waiver Program – Participants from countries covered in the Visa Waiver Program (VWP) are allowed to attend the training course under this program without obtaining any additional U.S. visa by registering online in the U.S. Homeland Security's Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) system at http://cbp.gov/xp/cgov/travel/id_visa/esta/. This automated system will determine the eligibility of visitors to travel to the U.S. under the VWP. If eligible, the participant is requested to inform the Argonne training course office at IAEA-ANLCourse@anl.gov.

Transit Visas - It is the traveler's responsibility to inquire if a transit visa will be needed for stopovers in other countries. Many countries/airports process transit visas at the airport itself; however, some transit visas must be issued in advance from the traveler's home country by the applicable consulate of that country. Since these rules and regulations are subject to change from time to time, it is recommended to check the requirements before travelling.

Dependents – The United States cannot assume responsibility for the dependents or provide support for their visas. Therefore, it is recommended that family members do not accompany participants in the U.S. at the time of training.

Medications

Persons taking medication should travel with the correct amount to cover the time period in the U.S. Obtaining medicine in the U.S. is very expensive and can only be obtained if a U.S. physician writes the prescription.

Website for Training Course Information

In the weeks before the training course, participants will be notified when course information is available online at international.anl.gov. The website will include the course prospectus, calendar of lectures, social calendar, lecture material, vitae, and other relevant information. All lecture material will be available for downloading at the website, and a CD of the materials will be provided to each participant at the end of the course. A password will be provided to everyone the first day of training.
